Champion, Six Purples To County Junior Dairymen

Youthful dairy exhibitors brought nine purple ribbons back to the county Thursday from the Pennsylvania Junior Dairy Show.

Wins in FFA and 4-H competition included one grand championship and two reserve grand championships, three junior championships, one reserve junior championship, and one reserve senior championship.

Harold J. Brubaker, Mount Joy R1 had two Brown Swiss animals in FFA competition and the two of them took top for the breed. A four year old cow, Welcome In Charming Gentle, was senior and grand champion while the senior yearling, Venture's Sunny Pansy, was junior champion and reserve grand.

Harold, the 16 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul N. Brubaker, owns 20 head of cattle in the family's herd of 69. Only four cows in the predominantly Holstein herd are Brown Swiss.

The Holstein junior championship was won by the senior yearling, Henket Reflection Sara, owned by James Kettering, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kettering, Latitz R3.

We're National

A story on a day in the life of a veterinarian, written by Jack Owen for Lancaster Farming last March, is being circulated to national farm magazines by a Des Moines, Iowa, advertising firm. The story will be used to help publicize, "October Is Animal Health Month".

Mary Ellen Mumma, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mumma, Manheim R1, showed her senior yearling Guernsey, Har-Len Royale Honey, to the junior championship in that breed.

Elaine's Dixie, a Brown Swiss junior yearling, shown by Phyllis Hoover, Gap R1, was the 4-H reserve junior champion.

Glenn Musser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elias Musser, Mt. Joy R1, showed a three year Ivanhoe Pauline, to the reserve grand championship in that breed. (Continued on Page 10)

Conservation District Approves Project 70, "With Reservations"

Directors of the Lancaster County Soil Conservation District Tuesday night went on record as supporting "Project 70", but support for the project was given "with three reservations."

Board chairman, Amos Funk, reported that the state association of soil conservation district directors approved action to support the project, with the reservations, at a meeting earlier this month.

He said the association took the action in the belief that "Project 70" can be an important and valuable tool in the wise utilization and development of our land and water resources if it is properly administered. Several watershed programs of soil conservation districts will also be benefitted.

Support was given subject to the following reservations:

1. That tax relief be provided to local municipalities when land is acquired until such time as recreational and economic development raises assessed valuation.

2. That farmers be represented in the development of the procedures under which the program shall be carried out.
3. That policies be established.

Junior Champion Is Top In Solanco Dairy Show

Judge Charles I. Robertson, Schuylkill County Agent broke with tradition Wednesday at the Solanco Fair by going to heifers for his two top placings in the Holstein breed judging.

The Senior Yearling of Glenn M. Kreider, 12 year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry G. Kreider, Quarryville R1, was named grand champion of the breed while the reserve spot was taken by the Junior Yearling of Judith Ann Longenecker, Holtwood R1.

Glen Bar Mistress Ivy, a 4-H project animal won a blue ribbon in her class at Solanco last year and placed sixth in the big class at the county 4-H roundup earlier this year.

A senior calf, Glenhurst Nip-O-Fashion, won the purple rosette in the Ayrshire judging for James Esbenshade, 16 year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. (Continued on Page 12)

Groff Scores Double Win In Solanco Beef, Swine

Robert Groff, Peach Bottom R1, scored a double win at Solanco Fair Thursday when he went home with the purple rosettes in beef and market hogs.

The 16 year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Groff nudged his 1,000 pound Kinloch Farms-bred Angus steer to the top spot of the show over the Angus entry of John Frev, Quarryville R2. Frev's steer was named FFA champion of the show.

The blocky champion, dubbed Yogi, weighed in at 460 pounds when he went on feed last December Groff said the calf looked "just like an ordinary steer" until about May, and then he began to "do". "He would eat twice as much if you'd give it to him," he said.

The win was a step up from last year when Groff showed the reserve champion, an Ang he went home with the purple rosettes in beef and market hogs.

Judith Longenecker, Holtwood R1, showed the 4-H runnerup, also an Angus in the Hereford 4-H class, Donald Swinehart, Quarryville R1, showed the top calf.

The market hog championship was the second consecutive rosette in the show for Groff. The junior student at Solanco High School purchased the pen of two Chester White pigs from John Hastings, Kirkwood R1, on June 1. The 235 pound porkers were farrowed in April.

Bids Opened For Improvement Of State Park At Fishing Creek

Bids for access roads and other improvements to the Landis Farm State Park near Fishing Creek were opened on Wednesday afternoon, Maurice Goddard, Pa. Secretary of Forests and Waters, said here this week.

The $84,465 project will begin almost immediately, Goddard told Lancaster Farming in an interview after the close of an open forum on Project 70 in the Armstrong Cork Company Auditorium.

"We have tried to upgrade existing parks with money in the general fund, but we are now adding money to the budget for further improvement to the Lancaster County park," he said. If the budget is approved, money will be made available on July 1, 1964.

Dr. Goddard urged the several hundred Lancaster County residents in the audience to look on Project 70 as an investment rather than a debt or an expenditure.

He said some people believe that outdoor recreation will be the dominant business in this country in 10 years. It is already by far the biggest business. (Continued on Page 5)

FIVE-DAY WEATHER FORECAST

Temperatures during the next five days are expected to average 2 to 6 degrees below the normal range of 54 at night to 74 in the afternoon. Cooler temperatures are expected Sunday, milder Tuesday, and cooler again at the end of the period. Precipitation during the five days is expected to total about a half inch falling as showers Sunday and again late Tuesday or Wednesday.

Freeman Adds Harrisburg To Review Stops

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman this week announced he is adding Harrisburg to his series of "Report and Review" meetings with farmers. The Harrisburg meeting will be at 2 p.m. Tuesday. (Continued on Page 7)

4-H Wildlife Goes Fishing

Fishing in a farm pond preceded the Thursday night meeting of the Lancaster County 4-H Wildlife club.

Members met at the farm pond of Graybill Gible, Mannheim R3, but "didn't catch anything worth mentioning", according to Eric Stoner, reporter for the club.

The meeting was opened by members reporting on the kinds of wildlife they have seen during the last month.

Next meeting of the club will be on October 17 at the home of Marlene Gentzler, New Holland Pike.

Many successful dairymen follow a strict routine at each milking; this will include washing with warm water, using strip cup, waiting for let-down of milk, machine stripping, and hand-check each quarter. The important thing is to properly prepare the cow for the let-down of milk, remove it just as quick as possible, and remove the machine before udder irritation begins. A timed routine will help do a good milking job.

ness in the Pocono Mountain region.

About 90 per cent of our population now engages in outdoor recreation, and with more automation, more and more leisure time, more total personal income, greater longevity of people, and a greater proportion of incomes available for discretionary purposes, the demand on the outdoors will increase, Goddard believes. Estimates indicate that the population will double in the next 40 years, but the pressure on outdoor recreation facilities will trip!

In urging passage of the referendum on a $70 million bond issue on November 5, Goddard said, "You have to invest money to have growth." The reason Lancaster County has attracted more growth than some of the coal regions is the beauty and livability of the area. Industries and people will move to liveable areas, he said.

In answer to a question concerning farm land, Goddard said Project 70 funds would not be available to buy land in 24 rural counties.

"The land purchased for outdoor recreation - cites by the Department of Forests and Waters would not be likely to stay in agricultural production at any rate." He gave an example of the Muddy Creek pump storage site which might have made a good park location, but which is now lost forever to this type of development.

If the referendum passes, $20 million would be available to local municipalities on a matching basis for development of parks and open spaces. "This money would be available on a first come first served basis," he said. At present only six counties have plans for such parks.

C. Bickley Foster, Lancaster County Planning Director, in introductory remarks, said only two Lancaster County municipalities, out of a total of 61, have any plans for future park development.

In his summary, Dr. Goddard said, "The $500 million bond for the World War II veterans' bonus would be retired in 1967. If we can afford a $500 million bond for shed to secure the orderly transfer of land acquired under the program from its original use to its new use and that agricultural use of lands under appropriate arrangements be allowed of suitable lands during the time between acquisition and eventual development.

In other business, the directors scheduled a series of watershed meetings during October and November. On October 8 at 7:30 p.m. the first of the meetings will be held at Sensenig's Super Thrift Market on Rt. 322 west of Blue Ball. The second will be held on October 15 at Churchtown, and the third will be held at Brickerville on November 7.

John Kitch, service forester reported that a total of $1825 was paid to fire wardens who hired help to fight forest fires along the Susquehanna river on July 26-27.

The figure does not include any damages for the 60 to 75 acres of woodland burned or charges of the Columbia and Conestoga fire companies which were paid by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company.

According to Kitch, the railroad company will be billed for the $1825 since it has been determined that fire along 40 miles of track from Cresswell to the Maryland state line was caused by sparks flying from a open railroad car hauling material to a pulp mill.

Kitch also reported that pulp wood users have agreed to purchase wood from Chestnut Oak trees which are dying in southern Lancaster County. However, he said, since pulpwood is purchased by weight and the dead trees are not very heavy, wood cutters are hesitant to harvest the trees for this purpose.

Directors approved nine applications for tree conservation plans on 450 acres. Plans were approved for Fritz K.

HOGS ON SLATS...

latest advancement in Pig Parlor plan for finishing hogs

Recently you've read and heard how Cornbelt hog raisers are growing out hogs in confinement on slat floors. Slat floor operations, with manure lagoons beneath, mark the latest advancement in the Pig Parlor plan of hog production, introduced by Purina over 6 years ago.

Purina Research has conducted exhaustive tests to weigh advantages and disadvantages of slat floors. We now have their recommendations. Slat floor units seem to have many advantages. Hogs on slats are more apt to suffer from extremes of cold or heat than those on concrete . . . but labor-saving advantages are obvious. Manure clean-out, a major problem in confinement rearing, is practically eliminated.

So let's talk about ways we can make hog raising in this area pay off. We'll be happy to share latest data from Purina Research. Drop by our Store with the Checkerboard Sign and we'll visit about a program for efficient, year-round hog production.

Solanco Tractor Driving Contest Has 3 Winners

A fifteen-year-old high school student won the Solanco Fair tractor driving contest Thursday morning.

Earl Wenger, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wenger, Quarryville R1, driving in the open class, scored the win in his first year of competition.

Driving a John Deere 3010 tractor, hitched first to a two wheeled manure spreader and then to a four wheeled wagon, Wenger totaled only 80, for low score in the "points off" judging.

Running a close second, and taking top FFA honors was John Frey, Quarryville R2, with a score of 95 points. Frey won second place in FFA competition at the 1961 and '62 fairs. Ross Anderson, Oxford R2, ran up 175 points for second place in the open class and third lowest score in the contest. The 200 points scored by James Esbenshade, Quarryville R2, was good enough to take the 4-H division. Esbenshade won the contest last year.

Following are the three top placings in each division as scored by judges, Winthrop

MR. DAIRYMAN—

ARE YOU GETTING ALL THE MILK YOU SHOULD?

Perhaps you'll begin answering that question by asking yourself another: "How much milk should I get?"

You should get all the milk your cows are capable of producing. And chances are, that amounts to a good many extra tons. Many dairymen who now manage for profit the PIONEER way have found that some of their cows are capable of producing as much as 2,000 lbs. more milk per year than they had been giving.

No doubt you've invested a lot of time, money and effort in improved breeding and selection. You've invested in a high-production potential for your cows. Protect that investment . . . and take full advantage of it. Let PIONEER feeds and PIONEER feeding programs help you feed out and milk out the full inherited production capacity of your herd.

Challenge your herd! Give your cows a chance to prove how good they really are. Stop in and ask us for more details about PIONEER dairy feeding programs. Remember, there's a PIONEER feed to fit every need.

Keep them away from children. It may be safer to destroy the little that is left around than to run risk of children or animals getting to them before they are needed next season.

Judges Named For Stock Show

HARRISBURG — Ten livestock experts from Penn State University have been named superintendents for the seventh Pennsylvania Livestock Exposition, Nov. 11-15 at the State Farm Show Building, Harrisburg.

State Agricultural Secretary Leland H. Bull, whose department is sponsoring the event, said Ben Morgan will preside for his sixth successive year as general superintendent. He will double also as head of the feeder calf department. Tom King will be assistant general superintendent.

Herman R. Purdy will be superintendent of the beef cattle department, and P. Jack Phillips, Jr., assistant. Other department heads will include: Breeding sheep, Francis L. Kreuzberger; market lambs, Lester A. Burdette; breeding swine, Dwight E. Younkin; market barrows, James L. Gobble; carcass show (steers, wethers and barrows), Glenn R. Kean.

Phillips and W. S. Jeffries, assistant state 4-H leader, will be co-chairman of judging contests. Phillips will have charge of the competition for intercollegiate teams. Jeffries will head up the program for 4-H and FFA judging.

Five of them — King, Morgan, Kreuzberger, Younkin and Burdette — are extension livestock specialists. Purdy, internationally known as a livestock judge, has charge of the university's purebred livestock program. He, Gobble, Kean and Phillips do teaching and research in the department of animal science and nutrition.

More than 3,000 head of beef cattle, swine and sheep are expected to be entered in the exposition from a score or more states. Evening entertainment will feature six games of indoor polo, livestock parades and horse shows. Admission and parking are free. The Pennsylvania Livestock and Allied Industries Association is co-sponsor of the exposition.

Bloat Season Is Coming, Vets Advise

Veterinary research is getting nearer the answer to the problem of bloat in cows, but there is still no simple way to prevent this troublesome, non-infectious cattle disease, the Conestoga Veterinary Medical Association today reported.

Veterinarians are giving special attention to bloat this month, because fall is one of the major danger seasons for the affliction.

Experiments with penicillin, vegetable oils and some of the new detergents are helping to solve the problem that costs American farmers nearly fifty million dollars a year, but there is still no foolproof way to prevent it.

In bloat, there is an excessive accumulation of gas in the stomach which the cow cannot eliminate by belching. Bacteria in the rumen produce the gas.

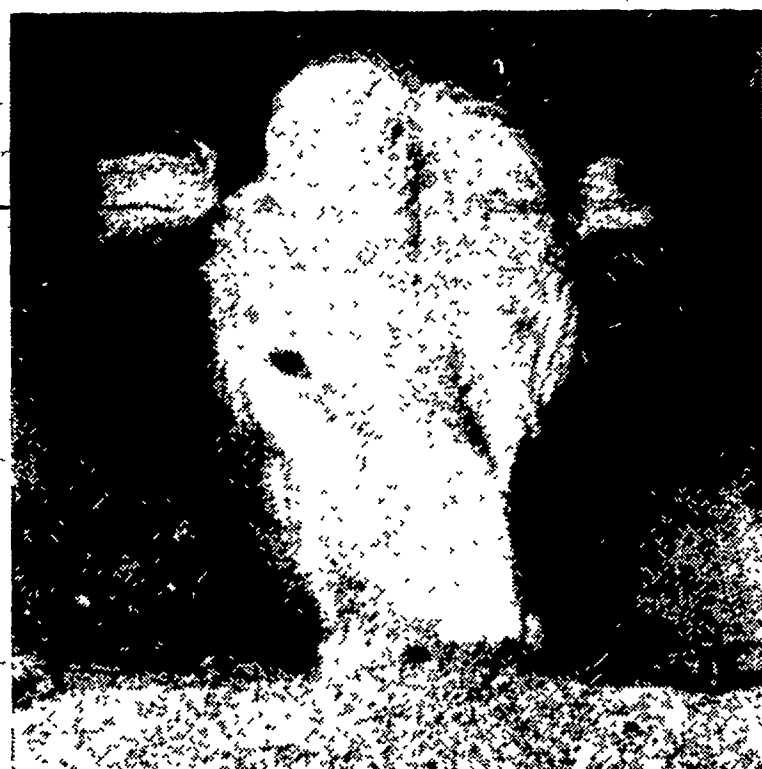

The big bloat producers appear to be legumes such as ladino clover, alfalfa and white clover, but occasionally a cow will bloat on a green pasture like rye grass.

Symptoms include a swelling of the paunch on the left flank to the animal, a stop in grazing, open mouth, distressed appearance, excessive salivation, a

Have A Piece of Apple Pie

By Mrs. Richard C. Spence

How could there be one choice in apple pie? America's number one dessert takes as many forms as there are cooks to bake it and people to eat it. Ever since the early days of our country, apple pie has been the traditional All-American dessert.

Most of these recipes use the ready-to-use apple products available today but if you have fresh apples on hand, they can be easily substituted.

SPICY APPLE PIE

- 2 1/2 cups (1 can) sliced apples
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/8 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1 1/2 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca
- 1 teaspoon lemon juice
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Pastry for 2-crust 8 inch pie

Combine first 7 ingredients and let stand while making pastry. Line pie pan with pastry. Arrange apple mixture in pan and dot with butter. Trim pastry even with pan. Cover with top crust. Trim pastry 1/2 inch beyond pan, fold it under bottom crust, press edges together with a fork. Cut decorative slits in top for steam to escape. Brush pastry with slightly beaten egg white and sprinkle with sugar. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees) 45-55 minutes.

APPLE PIE WITH CHEESE CRUST

- 2 1/2 cups flour
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 5 tablespoons cold water
- 1 5 ounce jar "Old English" Pasteurized Process Cheese Spread
- 1/2 cup liquid shortening

- 3 1/2 cups canned sliced apples
- 3/4 cup sugar
- 2 tablespoons flour
- Dash salt
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Sift together the flour and salt. Gradually add the water to the cheese spread, blending until smooth after each addition. Add the shortening and beat until well blended. Add to the dry ingredients. Toss and mix with a fork. Form into a ball. Divide the dough in half. Before rolling shape each half into a flat round, making the top and edges smooth. Roll out one round between two 12 inch squares of wax paper. If bottom paper wrinkles, turn and roll on other side. Remove the top sheet and invert pastry over a 9 inch pan. Peel off paper. Fit the pastry into the pan.

Combine the apples, sugar, 2 tablespoons flour, dash of salt, cinnamon and nutmeg. Fill the pastry lined pie pan. Dot the filling with the margarine or butter. Roll the second piece of pastry; cut gashes for the escape of steam, and place over the apples. Trim and seal the edge.

Bake in a hot oven, 400 degrees, for 40 minutes, or till done.

ICE CREAM-PIE

- 2 cups apple sauce
- 1/2 cup crushed peppermint candy
- 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 square unsweetened chocolate, grated
- 1/2 cup butter or margarine
- 1 quart vanilla ice cream

Combine apple sauce and candies; chill several hours. Sift together flour, sugar and salt; add chocolate. Cut in shortening with 2 knives or pastry blender. Press out into 9 inch pie plate; press edges with tines of a fork. Prick bottom and sides with tines of fork. Bake in hot oven, 400 degrees, 10-15 minutes. Cool. Spoon ice cream into pie shell. Top with apple sauce mixture. Serve immediately.

CARAMEL CRUMB TOP APPLE PIE

- Pastry for 9 inch pie pan
- 1 tablespoon flour
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 3 1/2 cups canned sliced apples

- 1/2 cup thin cream
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1/4 cup graham cracker crumbs
- 1/4 cup flour
- Dash salt
- 1/2 cup chopped pecans
- 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/4 cup butter or margarine
- 1/4 cup caramel sauce*

Line a 9 inch pie pan with pastry and sprinkle the bottom with 1 tablespoon flour and 1 tablespoon sugar, mixed together. Place the sliced apples in the pan and pour the cream over them. Combine the 1/2 cup sugar, graham cracker crumbs, flour, salt, pecans and cinnamon. Sprinkle over the apples. Heat together the margarine or butter and caramel sauce, stir until well blended and pour over the topping. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for 1 hour.

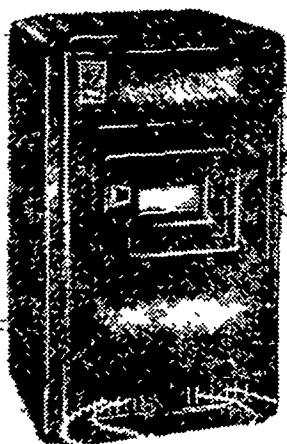

*CARAMEL SAUCE

- 1/2 pound caramels (28 caramels)
- 1/2 cup hot water or milk

Place the caramels and hot water or milk in the top of a double boiler. Heat until the caramels are melted. Stir until smooth.

Ladies, Have You Heard? . . .

By: Jane Thurston, Extension Home Economist

For A Thrifty Meat Meal

Cooked until they are so tender the meat falls from the bones, beef short ribs are one of the tastiest meats you could serve. An economical cut from the ends of standing rib roasts, short ribs have all the full meat flavor of the more expensive cuts and the same kind of high-quality proteins. To insure the most tender short ribs, long and slow cooking is best. Brown the meat and simmer in a little liquid until tender.

To Keep Kitchen Knives Sharp

Wash and dry knives right after using them — never soak in water.

Use knives only for their particular purpose. Don't cut bones, metal, string, or paper with fine knives.

Store knives separately so the cutting edges won't become dulled from hitting against each other or other hard objects, such as metal, silver, or glass.

Always cut food on a wood cutting board. This is safe for the knife blade and for you. If a knife slips on a board, it only cuts wood. Place the cutting board on your counter or table top, not the sink or a metal pan.

Keep knife blades away from heat and never heat them in a flame — heat destroys the temper of the steel.

Some Safety Tips To Remember

For ironing use a well-balanced, rigid board with a non-flammable or treated cover. Disconnect the iron at the outlet when you're called away from ironing. Keep the hot iron on its heel when not in use.

While sewing, put pins and needles in pincushions, never in your mouth, clothing, or furniture.

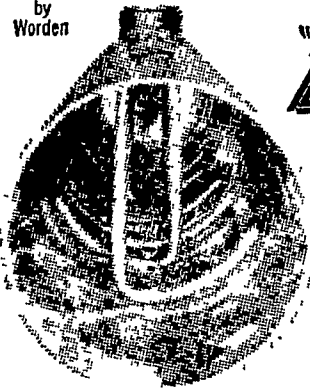

Keep sharp objects out of your lap. When you need to give sharp objects, such as (Continued on Page 16) until blended. Scald remaining milk; add to sugar mixture. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly, until thick. Cover; cook 10 minutes. Add almond extract, apple sauce and macaroon crumbs. Chill. Sift together flour and salt. Cut in cream cheese and shortening with 2 knives or pastry blender. Add enough water to hold ingredients together. Roll out dough; cut in rounds 1½ inches wider than diameter of tart pans. Fit each round into tart pan; trim edges. Prick bottom and sides with tines of fork. Bake in hot oven, (425 degrees) 5-10 minutes, or until brown. Cool. Fill tarts with apple mixture. If desired, top with whipped cream. Yields eight 3½ inch tarts.

CHEESE CRUMBLE APPLE PIE

2½ cups (1 can) sliced apples
1 cup brown sugar
2 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon nutmeg
1 tablespoon lemon juice
¾ cup flour
½ cup butter
¾ cup grated American cheese

Combine apples, ½ cup sugar, 2 tablespoons flour, cinnamon, nutmeg and lemon juice. Place in deep-dish pie pan. Mix remaining ½ cup sugar and ¾ cup flour, cut in butter with 2 knives or pastry blender. Add cheese, toss lightly, sprinkle mixture over apples. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees) 45-50 minutes. Serve with wedges of cheese on top.

APPLE PIE

2½ cups sliced canned apples, drained
Juice from apples plus enough bottled apple juice or cider to make 1 cup
½ cup currants or raisins
¾ cup sugar
1 tablespoon lemon juice
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon salt
1½ tablespoons cornstarch blended with
2 tablespoons cold apple juice or cider

Bring apple juice to a boil. Add seasonings and sugar, then stir in cornstarch mixture. Mix apples with thickened juice. Set oven at 350 degrees. Line 8 inch pie pan with pastry. Pour in filling. Cover with top crust. Brush crust with milk for a good rich brown. Set pie on lower rack of oven. Turn regulator immediately to 425 degrees. The fierce heat created during the first few minutes helps to prevent a soggy pie. After 20 minutes turn regulator back to 350 degrees and open door for a moment to lower temperature. Continue baking about 20 minutes.

OLD VIRGINIA COBBLER

½ lemon cut in thin slices
½ cup water
½ cup sugar
2 tablespoons flour
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
2½ cups sliced canned apples
2 tablespoons butter
1 cup sifted flour
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup shortening
2 to 3 tablespoons cold water
Simmer lemon slices in water until tender, about 5 minutes. Drain water and reserve. Combine sugar, flour and nutmeg in saucepan; blend in reserved lemon water. Cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Add sliced apples, butter and the lemon slices. Sift together flour and salt. Cut in shortening until particles are the size of small peas. Sprinkle cold water over mixture, tossing lightly with fork until dough is moist enough to hold together. Form into a ball.

Roll out to a 10 x 6 inch rectangle. Cut with pastry wheel or knife into triangles or diamonds. Pour hot apple filling into well-greased 10 x 6 x 2 inch pan or 9 inch glass pie pan. Arrange pastry over filling. Bake in moderately hot oven (450 degrees) 20 to 25 minutes. Serve with plain or whipped cream.

Good smells float out of the kitchen when cookies are being baked. Cranberry Cookies, made with fresh cranberries, can be dropped onto a baking sheet or spread into a pan to bake and cut in bars.

CRANBERRY COOKIES

½ cup butter or margarine
1 cup granulated sugar
¾ cup brown sugar (packed)
¼ cup milk
2 tablespoons orange juice
1 egg
3 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
¾ teaspoon baking soda
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup coarsely chopped nuts
2½ cups coarsely chopped cranberries

Cream butter and sugars together. Beat in the milk, orange juice and egg. Sift together flour, baking powder, baking soda, and salt. Combine with creamed mixture and blend well. Stir in chopped nuts and cranberries. Drop by teaspoonfuls onto greased cookie sheet. Bake at 375 degrees for 10 to 15 minutes. Makes about 12 dozen tea-size cookies.

To bake as bar cookies, spread batter on a well-greased 11 x 15 x 1" pan and bake at 350 degrees for 45 minutes or until golden brown. For a sugary crust, sprinkle with granulated sugar. Makes 4 dozen 1 x 2" bars.

Patio meals often aren't complete without a dip of some kind. This tangy vegetable dip and zesty liverwurst log go well with assorted crackers.

Marinades vary from mild to highly seasoned, but they should not mask the natural meat flavor. Marinades are thinner, usually more highly seasoned, and have less oil than sauces. But you can use either to add zip to your charcoal grill masterpieces, whether you're doing chops, roasts, or kabobs.

Enriched or whole grain breads and cereals are excellent sources of three essential B vitamins — thiamine, riboflavin, and niacin — and the mineral iron. Enriched or whole grain breads and cereals also provide cereal protein and food energy in the form of carbohydrates — a form of food energy that older persons can use easily.

A fine-tooth comb makes an excellent tool to spread glue over areas, such as the surface of a hatbox or blanket box, that you're covering with thinner, usually more highly decorative paper or other material.

USDA Changes Rules On Farm Pesticides

The U. S. Department of Agriculture moved this week to tighten Federal regulations governing the labeling and registration of pesticides to provide greater protection to consumers and the general public.

Proposed major revisions of present regulations, published in the Federal Register, will aid users in handling pesticide chemicals safely and effectively and will provide additional safeguards against misuse. Individuals or organizations wishing to comment on the proposals are invited to do so within the next 60 days.

Today's action by USDA's Agricultural Research Service takes account of the rapid increase in use of pesticides by consumers in and around the home. Most householders, ARS officials believe, need additional precautionary information to help them use and store pesticides safely.

Lancaster Farming, Saturday, September 21, 1963—17

The revised regulations would require key warning and caution statements to be placed on the front panel of the pesticide label, along with the words "Keep Out of Reach of Children." These warning and caution statements must be easy to read, and certain key words must conform to specified type sizes.

The proposed revisions would eliminate from the labels of all economic poisons such claims as SAFE, NON-POLYSONOUS, NON-TOXIC, NON-INJURIOUS, and HARMLESS, with or without the qualifying phrase "when used as directed," and would declare a product bearing these claims to be misbranded.

The revised regulations would define new testing procedures to be used in determining the toxicity of pesticides. They would provide for refusal of registration of a pesticide if adequate directions and warnings cannot be written for the pesticide which will prevent injury to the general public. The proposed revisions also provide new restrictions in the handling of experimental compounds.

Before developing these proposals, USDA officials met with outside experts to gain the benefit of their views. This group included representatives of the American Home Economics Association and Federal and State agencies concerned with safe and effective use of pesticide materials.

Farm Prices Show Increase

HARRISBURG — Prices received by commonwealth farmers in mid-August for dairy products rose 3 per cent over last month, but was 3 per cent below August a year ago, according to the Pennsylvania Crop Reporting Service.

Wholesale milk, at $4.45 per hundredweight, was 15 cents over last month, but down 15 cents per cwt. from August a year ago. Prices received for eggs increased 2 cents a dozen over last month, and turkeys increased 1 cent a pound.

Prices received for meat animals decreased from the month before. Hogs, down 20 cents, declined for the first time in several months. Slaughter cows were down 40 cents per cwt. for the third consecutive month. Lambs declined 50 cents as sheep prices decreased for the fifth consecutive month. Steers and heifers remained the same as last month.

BEST FOOD BUYSWide Variety In Meats Seen

Food shippers will find a wide variety of meat values this week in beef, pork and poultry. Medium eggs lose much of their budget value appeal as prices narrow between the large and medium sizes. September is a banner month at fresh produce counters. Summer items are still plentiful and fall offerings are starting to come to market.

Heavy market receipts of livestock and poultry tumbled prices in most wholesale markets giving food men a wide choice of meat items to feature for the weekend. Many retailers who had pork sales last week are turning to beef this week with offerings of loin steaks or chuck roasts. You'll see features in both smoked and fresh pork, including fresh boston butt, smoked picnic shoulder, and Canadian style bacon Fryer chicken is back in the spotlight in a few area stores as supplies are seven per cent more than a year ago.

Which type of bacon do you prefer? There's more difference in bacon than thickness of slice. First, there's regular bacon which comes from the underside of the pig. You can buy it sliced or unsliced. Less expensive is the bacon square, called slab bacon. It comes from the jowl of pig and tends to be very fat, with little lean. Tender lean meat with little fat is yours when you buy Canadian style bacon. It's made by curing and smoking the lean meat from the pork loin.

Practically all fresh vegetables are in heavy supply with prices at the lowest of the year. Outstanding buys this week include sweet corn, tomatoes, cucumbers, squash, peppers, and cabbage. Quality of both corn and tomatoes has been exceptionally good this year because of less insect and disease problems than in other years. Tomatoes have been late in maturing so supplies will continue heavy, but commercial sweet corn production is practically finished for this year.

Grapes rate a spot in your shopping cart. California supplies of table grapes this year are about 10 per cent greater than last year. September is the month when many varieties are available. Thompson seedless, and barley. Both were up a cent. Alfalfa hay increased $2.50 a ton and all baled hay was up $1.90 a ton. Wheat and oats were down 7 cents while rye, soybeans, and potatoes remained the same.

The index of prices received, a measure of the trend, and changes of prices received by farmers, was 219 per cent of the 1910-14 base. This compares with 220 a month earlier and 225 a year ago.

The index of prices received by United States farmers declined 1 per cent during the month ended August 15 to 242 per cent of its 1910-14 average.

Farm product prices dropped a little faster than prices paid by farmers from July 15 to August 15. As a result, the parity ratio declined 1 to 78, the same as in February and April.

• Bloat Season

Two of the old preventive remedies are feeding coarse material before putting them on bloat pasture and maintaining pasture tures which contain less than 50 per cent legumes. Although there is considerable disagreement concerning treatment, everyone agrees that the important element in saving the animal is to call local veterinarians as soon as they spot a bloat case.
